July 2020

Domestic Inflation

According to official data from the National Institute of Statistics (NIS), in July, Consumer Price Index (CPI) in Phnom Penh increased by 0.4% compared to the previous month and 3.1% compared to the same period last year.

The overall Consumer Price Index has a growth of 3.1% compared to the same period last year which was 2.2%. This growth is driven by almost every group of Consumer Price Index especially Food with a growth of 5.1% higher than the same period last year (2.2%) due to the price increase of meat (specially pork), fish and seafood, fruits and vegetables.

On the other hand, the price index of transport is still continuing decline with a negative rate of -5.4% comparing to the same period last year (-1.4%) which helps the inflation rate at manageable level.
